

Found Soundscapes is zine showcasing phonetic poetry inspired by spaces around Florence. The book features type samples collected across the city using the process of Frottage.